Youth At St Mary's

Please give thanks for last weeks great first new meeting with 11 young people. We thought about God's great creation and worked together to unravel a time-line of people and places throughout Bible History. October 6th 2012 into your Diaries for our Annual Diocesan Development Day. This year we will be exploring steps - big and small - that can help 'to transform our society and God's world', the third strand of the Diocesan vision. Together we will praise God for his great mercy and goodness, give time to thinking and learning about what part we play, individually and as church, in the transformation of his world and we will share fellowship, encouragement and hope together. We are delighted that Ann Morisy will be giving the Key note speech and we look forward to her well known combination of challenge and hope. It will be a great day and we would love you to be there. - Booking and workshop details to follow at the end of June.

Help With The Sound Desk

Would anyone like to help with the sound desk on a Sunday morning? Full training would be given, but it would need someone with a good ear (or two) and willing to come early to setup (9.15) and to stay late to help clear up. Please contact Steve if you're interested.

The Theodicy Jazz Collective

Here is a note for the deanery about "The Theodicy Jazz Collective" performing at the Cathedral on Tuesday 12 June at 6.30 Evening Prayer, followed by a Jazz Cafe until later. I have to miss it due to being in London on that date but I wanted to put it out to the deanery and parish as it is well worth hearing: high quality musicianship and authentic worship woven together. It will be a great evening.

Here's the link: <http://theodicyjazz.com/> and people can read about them on the back of this week's Church Times - they are here for a new mass commissioned by Canterbury Cathedral.
